

Shapa announces the short list for the 2017 Solids handling awards

2017 has been a good year for the solids handling industry with many successes over the last year, these successes have produced a strong shortlist for each of the award categories. This year the award categories are, Solids Handling Export Award, Solids Handling Innovation Award and Solids Handling Company of the year award. The shortlisted nominations for each award category are:-

Solids Handling Export Award

Perry of Oakley                      Russell Finex                      Schenck

Solids Handling Innovation Award

Ajax                                      Goudsmit                              Russel Finex

Solids Handling Company of the Year Award

Russell Finex                      Vent-tech                              Vortex